Rating Action: Moody's Ratings assigns Aaa to Town of Avon, CT's 2026 GO bonds

30 Jun 2026

New York, June 30, 2026 -- Moody's Ratings (Moody's) has assigned a Aaa rating to the Town of Avon, CT's approximately $3.4 million General Obligation Bonds, Issue of 2026 (Bank Qualified). In addition, we maintain a Aaa issuer rating and a Aaa rating on the town's outstanding general obligation unlimited tax (GOULT) debt. The town has approximately $20.4 million in debt outstanding, inclusive of the new issuance.

RATING RATIONALE

Avon's Aaa issuer rating reflects expectations of continued stability in its economy. The town's economic profile benefits from its role as a local commercial hub and a strong residential market. Avon's tax base has grown by a solid 9.5% compound annual growth rate since 2020, and a variety of ongoing housing development will continue to support further increases over the medium term. Resident income remains high at about 190% of the national median, while full value per capita property wealth is strong at about $304,000.

Town finances will remain stable, supported by solid management and reliable property tax revenues, which made up about 73% of fiscal 2025 governmental fund revenues. This stability has helped management maintain healthy reserves and liquidity at 30% and 41% of revenues, respectively, in line with similarly rated state peers. Officials also expect fiscal 2026 results to be flat to modestly positive on a preliminary basis. Operations should benefit from the town's recent move to the state partnership pooled insurance program, aimed at limiting future healthcare cost increases.

The rating also accounts for Avon's low leverage, amounting to about 34% of fiscal 2025 revenues, following the current issuance. Though the amount could rise significantly as management contemplates moving forward on a few different capital projects, the potential increase is not considered to be material to the town's credit profile.

The absence of distinction between the GOULT rating and the issuer rating reflects the town's full faith and credit pledge. The bonds are paid from a dedicated property tax that is not limited by rate or amount and is levied on all taxable property within the town.

RATING OUTLOOK

We do not usually assign outlooks to local government issuers with this amount of debt outstanding.
